Second ERC Synergy Grant call attracted 449 proposals

In total, 449 proposals were submitted to the second Synergy Grant competition of the European Research Council (ERC). Last year, the first ERC Synergy Grant call attracted more than 700 applications, of which 11 projects, involving 38 scientists, were funded. The Synergy Grant, a pilot funding scheme of the ERC, supports small groups of excellent researchers jointly tackling research problems and pushing forward the frontiers of knowledge.

The results of the selection for the latest Synergy Grant call are expected to be published at the end of 2013.
